

Ways For Parents to Be Involved in Their Child's School

You are your child's first teacher. Their formal education begins when they enter school. Your interest in their school reflects on their learnings. Here are some ways you can show an interest and become involved in your child's education:

- ~ Keep informed by reading newsletters and communications coming home from school
- ~ Ask your child what they are working on in Reading, Math, and the other subject areas
- ~ Volunteer to help out at school: playground/lunch duty; help in the library, in the classrooms, etc.
 - ~ Volunteer to help with things that can be done at home
 - ~ Serve on school committees
 - ~ Visit your child's classroom
 - ~ Show an interest in your child's studies
- ~ Apply and relate school learnings to family trips and outings
 - ~ Communicate frequently with your child's teacher
